

Headline News

Can charities benefit from 'sharism' and retain brand individuality?

Michelle Wright, founder and CEO of Cause4 discusses the idea of 'sharism' and why its important to charities

Digital inclusion

Charity to tackle digital isolation through workshops

Workshops will tackle digital isolation by helping local adults with additional needs to safely access online information and services

Data security

Organisations still failing to protect against cyber attacks, survey reveals

Charities are being encouraged to check they have adequate cyber security protection after a survey found that 26% of British organisations have left themselves open to cyber attacks

Online tools

Google throws its weight behind Local Guides Volunteer Day

Google is inviting Local Guides from around the world to join it for Local Guides Volunteer Day on December 10

Online raffle fundraising platform launched

The UK's first digital platform to help charities and good causes raise funds through online raffles has been launched

Emerging tech for good

GiveSmart wins fundraising technology prize

Software company scoops Best Technology for Event Monetisation or Fundraising title at the Event Technology Awards 2016

Tips & Advice

Survey reveals donor communication preferences

This year's Institute of Fundraising/fast.MAP Fundraising Media DNA report has revealed that different methods of communication work for different demographics.

New Campaigns

Social good tech company targeting £10,000 on Indiegogo

Sustainably, a real time social responsibility platform, has announced plans to raise £10,000 on crowdfunding platform Indiegogo

